

WOLF FUND GRANT APPLICATION

Background

The Frederick B. Wolf Fund for Enablement and Education for Lay Ministry was established by unanimous approval at the 166th Diocesan Convention as a means of acknowledging the emphasis Bishop Wolf placed on an active and informed laity. Grants from the Fund are made to lay persons, either as individuals or as groups*, to develop specific knowledge and or skills to further their baptismal ministry, and support the mission and ministry of the Episcopal Church in Maine.

Applications for grants are evaluated according to the guidelines below, and in the spirit of the "Seven Criteria for Mission" approved by Diocesan Convention.

*Groups may be any group within a parish, any parish or combination of parishes, any region or regional group, and congregational sponsorship is expected. One person should be selected from the group to submit one application.

The Committee

The Wolf Fund is administered by the Wolf Fund Committee. The committee is comprised of both lay and ordained members of the diocese, and members are appointed for three-year terms by the Bishop (the maximum appointment is two consecutive terms). The committee is responsible for reviewing applications to the Wolf Fund and for making recommendations to the Bishop on the distribution of grants. The committee generally meets in person once a year to review these guidelines and the application form. The members conduct their other business (meetings and application review) electronically. The Wolf Fund Committee submits requests for changes to their policies and protocols to the Bishop of Maine and Diocesan Council for approval, and makes an annual report at the time of Diocesan Convention.

Who may Apply

Applications may be submitted by any adult (lay) communicant in good standing or lay group (see definition above) associated with any Episcopal congregation in the Diocese of Maine for funding by the Wolf Fund.

The Wolf Fund invites those in the formation process, who wish to enrich their program of studies through seminars, programs or professional development opportunities, to apply for support from the Wolf Fund grant program. The Wolf Fund will not accept applications for funding for the Deacon Formation Program tuition/expenses, or seminary tuition/expenses. Individuals in the process of formation for Holy Orders (deacon or priest) may not apply for Loring Funds.

General Guidelines

The general guidelines for awarding grants by the Wolf Fund Committee are as follows:

Applications that support the spirit of the “Seven Criteria for Mission” (see below), as adopted by the 192nd Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Maine (2011), are encouraged. Incomplete applications will not be accepted. Grant money is non-transferable, and any unused portion of the grant must be returned to the Wolf Fund. There will be no commitment to continue any grant beyond its original term, multi-year funding is not guaranteed, and any change of original purpose for the grant requires re-application. The committee requires a short written evaluation of the activity or project for the committee’s review (within 30 days of completion of the activity) in order to complete the application.

Applications are accepted on a rolling basis, and are submitted directly to the Bishop’s Office in care of Barbara Martin, Executive Assistant to the Bishop and staff liaison to the Wolf Fund Committee. Any application must be signed by the priest-in-charge (or senior warden if there is no PiC) to be considered. Applicants are encouraged to apply at least 30 days, but not more than 90 days, in advance of funding deadlines. Supplemental materials in support of an application are encouraged.

Loring Fund grant amounts are at the discretion of the Committee. Complete accounting, reflecting all expenses and including other funding sources, is expected. Any extenuating circumstances that would cause hardship on the individual or the congregation needs to be carefully explained in the application. The Committee will make grant determinations on a case-by-case basis and in consideration of the availability of funds. All decisions of the committee are final.

Pending the availability of funds, the yearly limit on grant monies awarded to an individual is $1000. There is no limit to the number of applications a person can submit per year. The lifetime cap for individuals on grant monies awarded is $5000. The yearly/lifetime cap for group applications will be determined on a case-by-case basis at the sole discretion of the committee.

All applications will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis, and individuals are encouraged to apply well in advance (at least 30 days, but not more than 90 days) of funding deadlines. Last minute requests will be accepted, as the committee understands that very often last minute opportunity knocks. The Committee will try to accommodate late applications, but please remember processing may not happen in time to meet registration or other deadlines. The committee will not accept applications for retroactive funding. Requests for retroactive funding will not be accepted.
